

Come and See

Interactive Open House

Dear Families,

On Sunday, March 14, we will have our first ever interactive open house. The open house will be held between services 9:15– 10:30 am. The day school children will be singing at the Sunday service of their choice in celebration of Lutheran Schools Week.

During the open house, we will still hold Sunday school and Bible class. We are asking that as many children as possible participate in the open house with their teachers. The teachers will have activities going on in their classrooms and throughout the school for people to view. Church ministries will also have the option to showcase their groups.

Please sign and return the form indicating your willingness to be a part of this new event at SJL.
